

Handout 2 for Romans Chapter 4

1. Four observations of note on vv. 4-5.
 - a. The “worker” contrasts with the “non-worker.”
 - b. The “worker” eliminates grace altogether.
 - c. The “non-worker” is a believer.
 - d. The “non-worker’s” faith is reckoned for righteousness.

2. Three questions in regard to vv. 6-8.
 - a. What is the equivalent given here to “reckoning righteousness” to a person?
 - b. To whom does God reckon this righteousness (what is His description)?
 - c. Is there such a person today?