

"The Changing American Family." 2-Tim. 1:5

1-The quality of Timothy's faith was "Unfeigned.

2-The subjects of this faith:

1-First in thy grandmother Lois.

2-And in thy mother Eunice.

3-And I am persuaded that in thee also.

3-His grandfather not mentioned.

4-His father mentioned but not named--A Greek.

1-It is pleasant to see faith, in spite of paternal negligence, transmitted through three generations.

2-It is sin, and not grace, that is easily transmitted by blood.

5-A Modern Family situation: The Barr Family

1-This case is not altogether typical--but it may be prophetic of what is ahead of us.

2-From a distant college, and unexpectedly, Lucille comes home for the week-end.

3-Lucille had not planned it, but Tom, a neighbors son had prevailed on her to desert the college town with him in spite of impending exams.

4-Jack, the eldest son of the Barr household is business in a distant city.

1-He has flown home for the week-end at a neighbors house party.

5-Father, the tired old business man,

1-Has invited some business associates for a Sunday's golfing.

6-So:

Mother and the youngest daughter represent the family at church.

6-What has become of the family religion??????

1-We will not answer that question now---But what has happened to the Barr family has been happening to thousands of others.

7-In modern life, four types of family patterns may be differentiated in contemporary America.

1-The paternal family-(2)-The maternal family.

3-The equalitarian family-(3) The filio-centric

Within the family circle the father stands for discipline-the mother for affection.. This type family is a declining one.

8-The Patriarchal Family Passing:

- 1-The father was head of the family.
- 2-This type family passing because:
 - 1-It is contrary to the spirit of the times.
 - 2-Largely the result of the education of women.
 - 3-Because of business, the father is far removed from the family.
 - 4-The family affairs are in the hands of the mother.

9-In a Plea for Parental Authority---A modern educator at a recent conference on vocational guidance delivered himself of this vigorous opinion:

1-"I do not hesitate to say that in my opinion the children of to-day do not need vocational guides so much as they need a new set of parents."

2-Parents who have spunk enough to climb back upon the thrones in their own households which they have abdicated in favor of their children:

3-Parents who have energy enough to get their children out of bed early enough in the morning:

1-To wash their faces, comb their hair, and lace their shoes without the schools being obliged to give promotion credit for their doing so.

4- Parents who, when the shades of night begin to fall----Look after their boys with the same degree of care that they give th bull pup, which they chain up, lest he associate with the strange cur upon the street.

10-Anarchy in Ultramodern homes:

1-From magazines and woman's club discussions parents have learned the doctrine of the self-determination of children. They believe in the doctrine of free expression--LET THEM DO AS THEY PLEASE. This is far more popular with the children than it is with the neighbors; for a single family of unrestrained children will soon have ~~say~~ a whole neighborhood by the ears.

3-The Patriarchal Family Pattern:

1-The father was head of the family.

2-This type family pattern because:

1-It is contrary to the spirit of the times.

2-Largely the result of the education of women.

3-Because of business, the father is far removed from the family.

4-The family affairs are in the hands of the mother.

9-In a Year for Parental Authority--A woman

editor at a recent conference on vocational guidance delivered himself of this vigorous opinion:

1-"I do not hesitate to say that in my opinion the children of to-day do not need vocational guides so much as they need a new set of parents."

2-Parents who have spent enough to climb back upon the throne in their own households which they have abdicated in favor of their children:

3-Parents who have energy enough to get their children out of bed early enough

in the morning:

4-To wash their faces, comb their hair, and lace their shoes without the school being obliged to give protection credit for their doing so.

5-Parents who, when the shades of night begin to fall--look after their boys with the same degree of care that they give the bull pup, which they catch up, lest he associate with the wrong crowd upon the street.

10-Parental Authority in the Modern Home:

1-From magazines and women's club discussions parents have learned the doctrine of the self-determination of children. They believe in the doctrine of free expression--LET

THEM DO AS THEY PLEASE. This is far more powerful with the children than it is with the neighbor: for a single family of uneducated children will soon have a whole neighborhood of the same.
